DR SMITH

Dr Smith was born in South Australia and was educated in South Australia, Northern Territory and Queensland.

He completed his veterinary degree in 1975 with Honours from the University of Queensland. After completing residencies at the University of Queensland and Colorado State University, Dr Smith went on to become a Fellow of the Australian College of Veterinary Scientist in 1995.

Dr Smith combines his passion for Small Animal Surgery with his enthusiasm for rural Australia to provide surgical services both within Veterinary Specialist Services Brisbane Hospital and within various Northern Queensland and Northern Territory Veterinary Clinics.

He now provides specialist surgical services to the veterinarians of the northern half of Australia and North Queensland from Darwin. He is the only resident Specialist Small Animal Surgeon in the northern part of Australia (above the Tropic of Capricorn).
